

Undecided – Political Science, Policy Studies, or Economics?

This student took two Society classes in ECO 1000 and POL 1410. It is okay to take two classes from the same category of the Core Curriculum in the initial semester, especially if you're exploring these majors. These classes all fit into the Elon Core Curriculum but the POL 1410 class counts for three majors: Political Science, Policy Studies, and International & Global Studies. ECO 1000 counts for all Love School of Business majors.

Of course, this student is also enrolled in ELN 1010 and a First-Year Foundation writing course. The final class of REL 1760 fulfills a Civilization requirement. Be mindful to not overdo Civilization classes in the first semester. It is important to learn if you are required to take a World Language class that can also count in Civilization first.

Another class this student can take that is not pictured is ELN 1110: Exploring Majors. This class can help students who are trying to navigate their options.
