

Performing Arts – Music Theatre

As usual, we start with enrollment in either COR 1100 or ENG 1100 as well as ELN 1010. This student is a Music Theatre major. It's important to understand how busy a schedule may be in an audition-based major. This schedule is 17 semester hours as several classes are just 1 credit each. Planning out a balanced schedule is key.

Notice that this student of course has ELN 1010. They also have ENG 1100 (the other option is COR 1100). They opted to complete their First-Year Foundations Math. But the rest of the classes are all for their major. Performing Arts majors may only need to add 4-8 semester hours to complete their schedule for the fall semester. If you want to complete Math, that's fine. But you can also opt for other areas of the Elon Core Curriculum to start your journey at Elon.

One last note, students must have successfully auditioned into: Acting, Dance Performance & Choreography, Music Education, Music Performance, and Music Theatre to take classes. Students are able to take classes for Music Production & Recording Arts and Theatrical Design & Technology if they have not yet been admitted to those programs.
