

HOT INTERNSHIPS

December 9, 2016

Nike Communications (New York, NY) – Nike Communications specializes in the marketing and promotion of luxury and lifestyle products, with clients such as Moët & Chandon, Clinique, and Range Rover. Interns hail from schools all across the country and individually work with account teams, work under an account executive, and gain valuable, hands-on experience. For more information and to apply, click here.

Manhattan District Attorney (Manhattan, NY) – The Manhattan DA's Office is hiring a Press Office intern for its Communications Unit. Responsibilities will include uploading content to the Manhattanda.org website, using and monitoring social media platforms, analyzing website and social media traffic, and more. For more information about the internship, contact Emily Tuttle, Press Secretary, at press@dany.nyc.gov, and visit their online internship program post.

Elle Communications (New York, NY and Los Angeles, CA) – Elle Communications, a PR social impact boutique, works with non-profit, social enterprise, ethical and impact-focused clients to affect change, and they are hiring for Winter Term and Summer 2017 interns. Responsibilities include managing assigned projects for clients, conducting research, collaborating on media outreach strategies, and more. For more information, email resumes@ellecomm.com.

Buzzfeed (Los Angeles, CA) – The popular digital media organization is offering a paid production internship in their LA office. Responsibilities of the production intern will include assisting the production team with the casting process, research, and check-ins. Other intern positions include social news, community (editorial), DIY/Nifty (editorial), postproduction, and food (video), and more. To apply for the production internship, click here. To research other internships, click here.

The Associated Press (Los Angeles, CA) – The Associated Press is offering a paid, 12-week internship at its Entertainment desk in LA. The intern will perform tasks in a variety of skill sets, from writing and research to social media and video production. The intern will have the opportunity to work with a wide range of interview subjects and co-workers, such as desk editors, videojournalists, photographers, and more. To learn more and to apply, click here.

WWAY TV (Wilmington, NC) – Rising juniors and seniors and recent graduates interested in broadcast television have the opportunity to intern with WWAY TV in Wilmington this summer, working in the News Department and learning the different roles within it. WWAY TV has opportunities for reporter, social media, web, weather, anchor, and production interns. For more information, visit their internship program page online.

Fifth Letter (Winston-Salem, NC) – Fifth Letter is a graphic design shop with local clients, including the University of North Carolina at Greensboro and Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art. They are now accepting applications for Spring 2017 graphic design and marketing/strategy interns. Both will get to assist the Creative Director and Graphic Designer to create and execute printed and digital marketing materials, providing client support, conducting research, and more. For more information and to apply, contact Jan Badger at 336-723-5655 or jan@fifth-letter.com.

AAAS (Washington, DC) – The American Association for the Advancement of Science has opened applications for its Minority Science Writers Internship. The 10-week program runs from June to mid-August at the AAAS Science magazine, where interns will regularly contribute to the news section, including bylined articles in the print and electronic news service. For more information about the program and to apply, visit their website.

Philadelphia Sports Nation (Philadelphia, PA) – Philadelphia Sports Nation is a media organization eager to bring young talent onto their team for non-credit internships as a social media coordinator and a website contributor. The social media coordinator will regularly create posts for social media platforms, produce multimedia content and provide coverage, and website contributors will write at least one online article a week and participate in coverage team weekly discussions. For more information, contact Connor Cummings at ccummings8@elon.edu.

Center for News & Design (Austin, TX) – CND, a division of GateHouse Media, is the largest design hub in the country, and they're searching for a junior, senior or recently graduated student interested in journalism and design to join their team for a 10-week internship. The intern will engage in programs to integrate digital and print design for national news projects. For more information and to apply to this internship, click here.

Additional news...

The School of Communications is hosting an end-of-semester celebration today, December 9th at 1:30 p.m., upon completion of the last regular class period. Stop by the Snow Grand Atrium in Schar Hall for food, fun, and an AMAZING surprise from faculty!

The School of Communications strives to provide accurate information to students from legitimate employers. Because of the volume of internship postings received by our office, we cannot screen every listing. We do not endorse the products or recommend the services of any of the employers listing internships through our office. We are not responsible for the safety, wages, working conditions or other employment aspects of any internship listed here. Students are urged to use common sense, caution, and practice due diligence in researching employers before applying for any internship positions within a business or organization.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Nagatha Tonkins

Assistant Professor/Director, Internships

Elon University, 112 McEwen

cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336

Check out our blog at: <http://www.internnetwork.wordpress.com>

Follow us on Twitter: <http://twitter.com/Cominternship>