

HOT INTERNSHIPS

October, 2017

Burlington Downtown Corporation (Burlington, NC) – The BDC is a non-profit organization focused on promoting downtown Burlington and offering support to existing and potential business and property owners. BDC is still seeking to hire a part time Communications Intern that will begin as soon as possible and work through December or May. Interns will assist in developing marketing materials, creating new website and social media content, and assisting in the promotion of downtown events. Interns must be juniors or seniors. Contact sarabeth@burlingtondowntown.com for more information!

FOX News (NYC, DC and LA) – FOX News is currently looking to hire motivated students for their Spring College Associate Program. Through this program, students will gain real world experience from news professionals and will be placed in one of three areas including journalism, digital, or corporate. Responsibilities include pitching stories, writing features for online properties, and promoting the Fox News brand. Spring applications are accepted until November 30th! (Summer applications have not opened yet.) Click here for more information.

NPR (Washington, D.C.) – NPR is a multimedia news organization and radio program producer that has won hundreds of awards for investigative reports, outstanding features and series and digital innovations and bodies of coverage. NPR is currently looking to hire an Audience Insight and Research Intern who is looking to gain first-hand experience to media research and strategy. Audience Insight interns assist in programming, digital media, and underwriting research and will work closely with staff from across the whole organization. Applicants must have strong writing skills and must have the ability to work independently and collaboratively. Applications must include a cover letter. In order to apply, head here!

American Society of Magazine Editors (NYC and Washington, D.C., PAID) – ASME is now accepting applications for their 10-week Magazine Internship Program. ASME interns report, edit, fact-check, and copy-edit for print and online publications and may even get the chance to interview celebrities and attend red carpet events! Applications are due on Friday, December 1st! Click here to apply.

EDM World Magazine (New York, NY) – EDM World Magazine is a popular publication that showcases the best electronic dance music artists, news, videos, festivals, fashions, and technologies. The magazine is looking for a talented Graphic Design Intern who will get the opportunity to design ads, social media graphics, banners, and even front to back issues of the publication! Click here to apply.

Atlanta Film Society (Atlanta, GA) – The Atlanta Film Society is a year-round non-profit media arts organization that specializes in film screenings, educational support and media events. Their mission is to lead the community in creative and cultural discovery through the moving image. ATLFS is looking to hire interns for both the Spring and Summer in several departments including film programming, media and technology, marketing, design, and more! ATLFS interns will be able to gain hands on experience in the media arts industry and will assist in staging/scheduling events, organizing screenings, maintaining a social media presence, and writing event announcements. To take advantage of this opportunity, click HERE! Deadline for Spring applications is December 10th and the deadline for Summer applications is March 25th!

United States Specialty Sports Association (Viera, Florida) – The USSSA is a volunteer, sports governing non-profit organization whose mission it to be “the most visibly recognized, technologically advanced, professionally represented sports organization in the world.” The USSSA is looking to hire an Elon intern who will assist in shooting, editing, and writing features and highlight packages for their channels. Candidates should be skilled in Final Cut Pro or Adobe Creative Suite and should be knowledgeable about social media as a marketing platform. This is a Summer internship and students should send a resume, links, and some writing samples to lindsey.schmidt@ussa.com.

Additional News...

Do you need funding for a creative project? Each year, funds are made available through a competitive review process conducted by the School of Communications Awards and Competitions Committee. Grants are designed to support development of competitive projects through production assistance, payment of submission fees, and travel assistance to competitions. In order to be eligible, you must be a current student majoring in the School of Communications or a recent graduate from the School of Communications. The early deadline for fall semester is Monday, October 9th by 5 PM. To get more information on guidelines and directions, please click here!

Attention! Hearst Television is looking to recruit a Winter 2017 graduate for their Fred Young Hearst TV Producing Fellowship! This is a 10 week PAID fellowship program can possibly be followed up with a full time job offer. Candidates should have a passion for producing news for TV, radio, or online. Strong writing skills are a must, and candidates should also be able to provide faculty recommendations. Applications are due by November 17th and should be sent via email to caltman@hearst.com and ekropp@hearst.com!

Weber Shandwick is hosting a Professional Development Workshop on November 15, 2017 from 6:00 PM to 8:00 PM in their NYC office! This career and professional development workshop called, “Creativity Gets You Everywhere” will feature a keynote presentation from TLF Board Member and Weber and Shandwick President, Gail Heimann! This event is for all students, recent graduates and professionals. Please RSVP by Tuesday, October 31, 2017 to Carmen Huerta at carmenhuerta@lagrant.com.

The School of Communications strives to provide accurate information to students from legitimate employers. Because of the volume of internship postings received by our office, we cannot screen every listing. We do not endorse the products or recommend the services of any of the employers listing internships through our office. We are not responsible for the safety, wages, working conditions or other employment aspects of any internship listed here. Students are urged to use common sense, caution, and practice due diligence in researching employers before applying for any internship positions within a business or organization.

FOR MORE INFORMATION:

Nagatha Tonkins

Assistant Professor/Director, Internships

Elon University, 112 McEwen

cominternships@elon.edu, (336) 278-6336

Check out our blog at: <http://www.internnetwork.wordpress.com>

Follow us on Twitter: <http://twitter.com/Cominternship>