NEIGHBORHOOD THEME

The intellectual theme guiding The Oaks and Park Place Neighborhood is Discovering Adulthood with the aim of creating a culture of discovery that enables every resident to explore their own and others' identities, practice or try new ways of thriving, and engage directly with their communities. Discovering Adulthood is constructed on the pillars of identity, thriving, and opportunities for community and civic engagement.

Exploring and understanding our complex identities to enrich our learning and engagement intellectually and socially
Identity

Enabling college students to thrive as a holistic approach to student success, supporting all aspects of well-being
Thriving

Connecting residents with tools and opportunities to participate in community and civic engagement beyond the college years
Civic Engagement

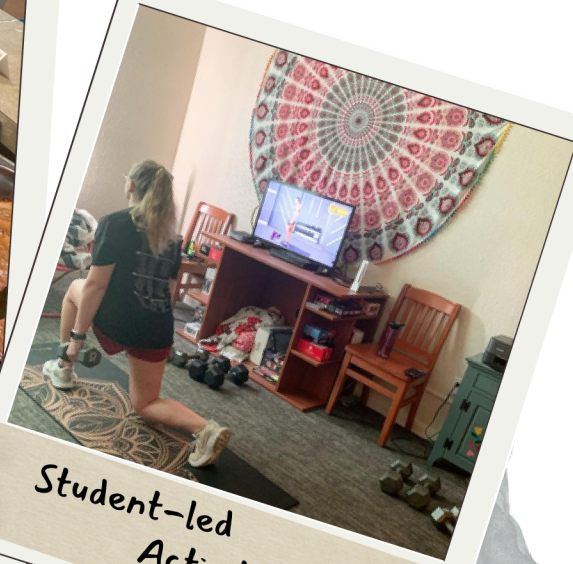

TRADITIONS AND ACTIVITIES

With nearly two decades of history, The Oaks and Park Place Neighborhood is vibrant with traditions and activities that support our neighborhood theme of Discovering Adulthood. Monthly neighborhood dinners, social celebrations, Connections With... events, and student-led activity groups are some of the activities The Oaks and Park Place Neighborhood residents enjoy each year. In Spring 2024, we are excited to start a new tradition as a Day of Service in collaboration with the Kernodle Center for Civic Life.
