Description

The Performing Arts Living Learning Center (PA LLC) is designed to generate a community atmosphere where students can express and explore their creativity and artistic interests or skills in the performing arts. Society needs balanced artists for celebration, creation and as a critical voice to further expand and explore the arts. The Performing Arts LLC hopes to help students learn to achieve balance in the three main pillars of an artistic life: the Mind, the Body, and the Soul. This will be done in a safe space for students to network, build support groups and develop collaborative skills.

Overall Living Learning Community Goals

- Living Learning Communities provide students with a sense of belonging in a community of their peers united by a common interest.
- LLCs support students' intellectual, personal, and social growth by providing them with opportunities to learn in a collaborative, engaging environment.
- Living Learning Communities work to integrate students' academic, social, and residential experiences, providing a seamless learning environment in which students develop "connected knowing" outside of the classroom on disciplinary and interdisciplinary projects.
- Living Learning Communities challenge students to test their skills/knowledge through applications, experiences, reflection and synthesis outside the classroom. Examples of this include intellectual discussions, trips, projects, speakers and events.
- Living Learning Communities provide opportunity for faculty and staff to engage in university service and student mentoring in intentional mentorship with students outside of the classroom in their field of interest or discipline.

Performing Arts LLC Goals

- Explore the performing arts both on and off-campus and how they relate to the Elon community and the community at large.
 - Expose students to the value of participating in events outside of the performing arts both on-campus and off-campus.
 - Learn to critique events in a constructive manner.
 - Develop a supportive community that addresses the needs of the entire person.
