MEMORANDUM

TO: ELON LAW STUDENTS

FROM: JANE LAW, REGISTRAR

RE: SPRING 2022 TRIMESTER COURSE INFORMATION

DATE: March 11, 2022

Included with this memorandum are:

- course descriptions for the courses offered in the Spring 2022 trimester,
- the class schedule for the Spring 2022 trimester,
- a “Confirmation of Faculty Advisor Meeting” form (for 2Ls only),
- a list of courses in various practice areas (Business/Transactional Law, Criminal Law, Civil Rights, Human Rights, and Public Interest Law; and Litigation/Advocacy) that faculty teaching in those areas deem to be essential for practice in those areas (not all the courses on the list are offered every trimester),
- a required textbooks list for Spring 2022 courses,
- a list of anticipated courses for the two 2022 Summer terms and the Fall 2022 trimester (subject to change).

Adjustments to the class schedule may be made before the start of the Spring trimester. The Registrar’s office will keep students updated as any adjustments occur.

1Ls are automatically registered for Lawyering, Leadership, and Professionalism (LLP); Introduction to Legal Studies (ILS); Legal Method & Communication III (LMC III); and Property. 1Ls must register for either Business Associations or Evidence (4 credits each). You are only allowed to register for one of the courses. 1L registration opens online on Thursday, January

20th at 1:00 p.m. If one of these two courses fills up, all other students will automatically be registered for the other course.

2Ls' online registration begins on Tuesday, January 18th at 12:45 p.m. Online registration for all students ends on Friday, January 21st. After Friday, January 21st, you may update or change your schedule by contacting the Registrar, Jane Law at jlaw@elon.edu. The Registrar will send any updates or changes to the attached schedule via email, as soon as possible. Most elective courses have minimum and maximum enrollments. If you try to register for a class and receive a message that the class is full, you should email Ms. Law to be placed on a wait list. If a class fails to meet the enrollment minimum, she will notify the enrolled students, and they will be allowed to register for other classes.

If you are scheduled to do your Residency during the Spring trimester, you must register for one additional course of either 2 or 3 credits, for a full academic load for the term. Students are encouraged to take an accompanying course related to their Residency and one that does not conflict with work hours. Some courses will be offered through distance learning technology, so that students can complete the Residency and the accompanying course away from the law school. The Residency experience takes priority during the Residency trimester. Thus, any student who elects to take a Residency-accompanying course during normal working hours (8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.), must obtain consent from the on-site supervising attorney or judge confirming that the student will be allowed to miss Residency-related work during times that the accompanying course meets. An MOU form for this purpose is available on the Registrar's website and must be completed, with signatures, and returned to Professor Conner, no later than the first day of Spring trimester. If the student's work schedule will not permit taking the course, the student will have to enroll in a different accompanying course that does not conflict with work hours. The Law School's in-house clinic Residency placements have their own accompanying courses, and students in clinic Residencies will be pre-registered for those courses.

The drop/add period for all courses (other than clinic courses) ends on Friday, April 1st at 5:00 p.m. Students must seek permission from their clinic director to drop a clinic course after the online registration period ends.

Students will register for courses online via OnTrack:
<https://ontrack.elon.edu/WebAdvisor/WebAdvisor?&TYPE=M&PID=CORE-WBMAIN&TOKENIDX=7485788338>. 2L students must register for at least 10 hours to remain enrolled as full-time law students in the law school. Students may not register for more than 14 hours per trimester, absent special permission from the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs.

Textbooks for each course can be ordered from the Elon Campus Shop through OnTrack or by calling the Campus Shop at 336-278-5400, or from popular online sites.

If you have questions about the information in this packet, please contact the Registrar's office at 336-279-9325; jlaw@elon.edu or thorn@elon.edu.

Required Courses for First Year Students

Introduction to Legal Studies (ILS), 1 credit (OAS Faculty)

LAW 605

This intensive “immersion-style” course introduces first-year students to the analysis and reasoning necessary to understand legal materials. By taking this course, students should achieve the skills necessary to understand cases and statutes and how to craft legal arguments from them. The principal topics include: the sources of law, structure of the American legal system, analysis of a case, the concept and use of precedent, progressive evolution of common law doctrine, emergence of new doctrine, analysis of a statute, approaches to statutory interpretation, relationship between statutes and case-law and between statutes, and presumptions in statutory interpretation. Small section meetings supplement large section lectures. Small section instruction includes case briefing, development of study skills, and professional writing practice.

Lawyering, Leadership, and Professionalism (LLP), 1 credit (Professor Leupold) LAW 684

This course considers three aspects in the development of competent, leading lawyers: exercising problem-solving lawyering skills, developing a professional identity to guide selected career paths, and exhibiting professionalism as an active member of the bar and officer of the court. These three components coalesce to provide a sound foundation for acquiring and refining legal skills and developing a competitive legal career. This approach enhances the learning experience for students while reinforcing that excellence in knowing the law and basic exposure to expert application of the law are essential personal priorities and critical outcomes from legal education.

First-year students are automatically registered for Spring trimester LLP.

Legal Method and Communication (LMC) III, 2 credits (Professors Atkins, Clodomir, Dineen, Liemer, Reddy, Zboreak)

LAW 674

This course builds and expands on the skills taught in LMC I & II, as students hone their analytical and legal writing skills. Students will learn additional techniques for persuasive advocacy. They will write a brief to the federal Court of Appeals and will prepare and deliver an appellate oral argument. In addition, students will learn to research legislative history and to include policy arguments effectively in their written and oral advocacy.

First-year students are automatically registered for LMC III.

Property, 5 credits (Professors El-Sabawi and Haile)

LAW 640

This course is a study of rights and interests in real property. Topics covered include the acquisition of rights in property, estates and future interests, concurrent ownership, landlord-tenant relations, restrictive covenants, easements, mortgages, and issues relating to title.

First-year students are automatically registered for Property.

NOTE: 1L students will need to register for one of the two following courses. You will automatically be registered in the Fall 2022 trimester for the course you did not take in the Spring 2022 trimester.

Business Associations, 4 credits (Professor Molony)

LAW 710A

This course covers basic corporate law, including formation, management, and dissolution of corporations, and the rights and duties of those involved with corporations. The law related to business organizations, such as partnerships and limited liability companies (LLC), will also be covered. This course has a final examination. Maximum enrollment 85 students.

If you have an interest in business law, including either transactional work (assisting clients to enter into agreements) or business litigation (disputes between business entities), you may want to register to take Business Associations in the Spring trimester. In Business Associations, we study the case law and statutes that govern the creation, operation, and dissolution of businesses. You will learn about how businesses make decisions and about the legal duties that those operating a business (managers or directors, for example) owe to those who own the business (shareholders, for example).

Evidence, 4 credits (Professor Dunham)

LAW 730A

The aim of this course is to develop familiarity with the techniques by which evidence of controverted facts is presented in litigation before judicial tribunals. The Federal Rules of Evidence, North Carolina Rules of Evidence, and common law rules will be examined. Maximum enrollment 85 students.

If you are interested in working with litigation or litigation-related topics in your professional future, including working in public service positions such as the District Attorney or Public Defender offices, please consider registering for Evidence in the Spring trimester. Civil Procedure, Criminal Law, and Evidence are the foundational topics for lawyers who want to engage in litigation and advocacy. In Evidence, students learn the Federal Rules of Evidence, rules applicable in civil and criminal trials, which are tested on the Multi-State Bar Exam and form the basis for every state's rules of evidence. By taking Evidence in the 1L Spring trimester, you will be prepared to take the Trial Practice and Procedure course, the basic advocacy course, in the Fall of your 2L year. Also, for students aspiring to a Residency placement in litigation environments, such as the DA or PD offices, Evidence is an essential course.

Required Courses for Second Year Students

Students must take the following courses before the end of the second year:

- Constitutional Law II (Students not registered for a Spring Residency will automatically be registered for Constitutional Law II.)
- Residency-In-Practice (Students with a Spring Residency will be automatically registered for the Residency.)

Constitutional Law II, 3 credits (Professor Perkins)

LAW 721A

This course covers the principles of American constitutional law. The course will examine the concept of judicial review, as well as other specific provisions of the Constitution, including the Due Process Clause and the First Amendment. Constitutional Law II is a continuation of Constitutional Law I. Students not registered for a Winter Residency will automatically be registered for Constitutional Law II.

Residency-in-Practice, 7-8 credits (Professor Conner & other faculty)

LAW 890

The Residency-in-Practice course requires 2L students to work 32 or 36 hours per week for 10 weeks in a government, judicial, non-profit, corporate, or private law office, earning 7 or 8 academic credits. This academic requirement promotes learning from practice, with substantial lawyering experience reasonably similar to the experience of a lawyer advising or representing a client or engaging in other lawyering tasks, under direct attorney or judge supervision at the field placement. Stepping into the role of a lawyer, students deepen the legal knowledge learned in classroom courses, sharpen skills needed to be a successful lawyer, and make the professional connections and observations important to career development. Residents are assigned a Faculty Supervisor, who provides orientation to the program and guidance through written assignments, small student group meetings, and individual conferences. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Students must register for one additional course of either 2 or 3 credits for a full academic load in the Residency trimester. Students are encouraged to take an accompanying course that relates to the Residency and does not conflict with work hours. Some courses are offered through distance learning, so students can complete a Residency and the accompanying course away from the law school. The Residency experience takes priority during the Residency trimester. Thus, any student who elects to take a Residency-accompanying course during normal working hours (8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.) must obtain consent from the supervising attorney or judge, confirming that the student will be allowed to miss Residency-related work during times that the accompanying course meets. An MOU form for this purpose is available on the Registrar's website and must be completed, with signatures, and returned to Professor Conner, no later than the first day of Spring trimester. If a student's work schedule will not permit taking the course, the student will have to enroll in a different accompanying course that does not conflict with work hours. Each of the Law School's in-house clinic Residency placements has its own accompanying course, and students in clinic Residencies will be pre-registered for their accompanying course. If you are fulfilling your Residency requirement during the Spring 2022 trimester, you will automatically be registered for either 7 or 8 credits based on the number of credits of your accompanying course, for a total of 10 credits.

- Communications Requirement

Each student must also fulfill a Communications Requirement after the first year. The Communications Requirement develops communication skills and provides interim feedback on those skills. The Requirement may be filled by completing a law review note under faculty supervision, competing on a Moot Court or Mock Trial team, completing a Leadership Fellow Capstone Project, or taking a course designated by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs as a Communications course.

A student may not satisfy both the Communications Requirement and the Upper Level Writing Requirement with a single course or experience; each requirement must be met separately. For example, if a course is designated a Communications course and includes writing a paper that would meet the Upper Level Writing Requirement, a student may satisfy either the Communications Requirement or the Upper Level Writing Requirement by taking the course, but not both.

Communications courses offered during the Spring 2022 trimester are:

Administrative Law
Advanced Legal Research (3 credits)
Bankruptcy
Business Drafting
Civil Rights Actions
Education Law
Gender and the Law
Health Law
Law Review (note-writing term)
Mergers and Acquisitions
Moot Court (competition term)
Negotiations
Wills Drafting Clinic

Elective Courses for Second-Year and Third-Year Students

*Note: Subjects potentially tested on the NC Bar Exam (and most other state bar exams) are marked with an asterisk (*). Courses that may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement are marked with a dollar sign ($).*

Accounting for Lawyers, 2 credits (Professor Molony)

LAW 711A

This course covers the basic concepts of financial accounting. It is intended for students with little or no accounting background and designed to equip these students with the fundamental skills necessary to read and critically review a corporation's financial statements. This course is not open to students who have received credit for more than one undergraduate or postgraduate course in financial accounting. Minimum enrollment 8 students, maximum enrollment 16 students.

(*)Administrative Law, 3 credits (Professor Etheridge)

LAW 715A

This course is organized around the lifecycle of federal administrative decision making; it begins with legal issues around agency creation and delegation of powers, moves to the issues that arise when agencies use those powers (with a particular focus on policymaking and adjudication), and ends with control over and review of administrative actions (by the political branches, the courts, the public, and the administrative state itself). Along the way we will consider actions of the Environmental Protection Agency, the National Labor Relations Board, the Department of the Interior, the Food and Drug Administration, the Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the Social Security Administration, and the Federal Trade Commission. Final grades will be based on a combination of in-class exercises, written assignments, and a final exam.

Minimum enrollment 8 students, maximum enrollment 30 students.

Advanced Legal Research: North Carolina Legal Materials, 1 credit (Dean McLeod)

LAW 664A

This course examines the three branches of the North Carolina Government. Students will learn to find statutes, cases, administrative decisions, and treatises on specific topics. Both print and online sources will be examined. The focus will be on research strategies to solve practical questions that an attorney would encounter in a typical North Carolina practice using cost effective methods. This course may permit asynchronous online participation consistent with Law School technical requirements for such courses. Minimum enrollment 4 students, maximum enrollment 12 students.

Advanced Torts, 3 credits (Professor Grant)

LAW 859A

This course builds on the foundations of the first-year Torts class, which primarily focused on intentional torts and negligence, as well as defenses to them. This course provides more extensive and in-depth exposure to the Torts arena. Tort law is a subject heavily tested on bar exams, and in law practice tort issues arise often. This course will address the various torts and aspects of those torts not covered in the first-year curriculum including medical malpractice, defamation, the privacy torts, advanced issues in products liability, death and survival actions, heart balm torts, the role of liability insurance in tort law and compensation schemes as alternatives to tort litigation. Upon completing this course, students should be able to thoroughly analyze tort problems, apply tort law to facts, and understand how tort law works in practice. Finally, students should gain an appreciation of the theory, philosophy, and public policy behind the common law of torts. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 50 students. This course is completely online, which allows students to listen to weekly lectures, do the course reading, and work on weekly assignments on their own schedule (subject to submitting them by the weekly deadline). While the class schedule stipulates Advanced Torts as occurring on Monday evenings 5:15-7:15pm this is for administrative purposes and is not a class time that requires attendance; rather, during this time the Professor will be available to assist students as needed with the course. The course can also be taken from anywhere in the world with Internet access.

(*) ($) - Bankruptcy, 3 credits (Adjunct Professor Ledford)

LAW 811A

This course focuses on the rights and remedies of debtors and their creditors under the United States Bankruptcy Code. In addition, the interplay of the Bankruptcy Code and the provisions of Article 9 of the Uniform Commercial Code and of state law are examined. This course also provides an overview of state law rights and remedies of judgment debtors and creditors. Minimum enrollment 4 students, maximum enrollment 10 students. This course may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement.

Adjunct Professor Ledford has a BA from Davidson College and a J.D. from Wake Forest University School of Law. She is a board-certified specialist in both Consumer and Business Bankruptcy Law and was the Chair of the Bankruptcy Section of the North Carolina Bar Association in 2013-2014. She has served as an adjunct professor of Business Law and Legal Environments of Business since 2012 and has taught in the undergraduate programs at Winston-Salem State University, Guilford College, and Elon University.

(*) ($) Business Drafting, 2 credits (Adjunct Professor Greene)

LAW 812A

This course teaches students the basic principles of contract interpretation, negotiation, and drafting. Emphasis is placed on drafting contractual agreements that meet clients' needs and effectively anticipate potential legal problems. Students read and analyze a variety of contracts and contract provisions and work both independently and collaboratively to negotiate and draft a series of written contracts. The types of contracts studied and drafted may include contracts for the sale of goods, service contracts, employment contracts, sweepstakes rules, client letters, cease and desist letters, and guest releases. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 16 students. This course may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement. If you are registered for the Business Residency, you will be automatically pre-registered for this course as the accompanying course.

Adjunct Professor Greene is a corporate attorney with Nexsen Pruet's corporate and tax practice group. She supports corporate clients in transactional matters, including purchasing and selling commercial real estate, corporate governance, commercial agreements, and mergers and acquisitions. Before returning to North Carolina, she worked for a boutique business litigation firm in Miami, Florida, where she represented clients in complex commercial disputes. Attorney Greene received her J.D. from Washington and Lee University School of Law and her B.S. from Wake Forest University. She is licensed to practice law in both Florida and North Carolina.

Civil Rights Actions: Enforcing the Constitution, 3 credits (Professor Perkins)

LAW 851A

Constitutional tort law operationalizes the Constitution by providing a vehicle for holding state, local, and federal officials, local governments, and private parties operating under color of state law liable in damages for violations of people's constitutional rights. The course examines, at both a theoretical and practical level, the litigation of constitutional torts through 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and Bivens actions, including elements of a claim, immunities, procedural defenses, remedies, and attorney's fees. The study of constitutional litigation calls for advanced application of constitutional, tort, and civil procedure principles. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 16 students.

(*) Criminal Procedure, 3 credits (Adjunct Professor Meinecke)

LAW 732A

The major constitutional restraints upon the criminal justice process are the focus of this course. Particular attention is given to the provisions of the Fourth, Fifth, and Sixth Amendments to the United States Constitution, including such specific issues as arrest, search and seizure, interrogations and confessions, the exclusionary rule, and the right to defense counsel. Overall consideration is given to the impact of Fourteenth Amendment Due Process requirements throughout state and federal criminal justice systems. Minimum enrollment 8 students, maximum enrollment 40 students.

Adjunct Professor Terry Meinecke is an Assistant United States Attorney in the Middle District of North Carolina. In that role, he prosecutes crimes ranging from gun and drug-related offenses to armed robbery and homicide. Attorney Meinecke is a Lieutenant Colonel in the United States Army Reserve JAG Corps. He received his J.D. from the University of Nebraska School of Law.

(S) Education Law, 2 credits (Professor Clodomir)

LAW 867A

This seminar introduces students to laws and policies governing instruction in K-12 schools, including civil rights protections for students with disabilities and school discipline. Statutory topics include the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, Title IX, and Every Student Succeeds Act. Policy topics include racial inequities in United States public schools, the school-to-prison pipeline, and the effect of Covid-19 school shut-downs on established policies. Experiential components of the course include reviewing the litigation process, dispute resolution, and role-playing strategies for interviewing children and counseling the parent-advocate. A research paper is required. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 12 students. This course may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement.

(*) Family Law, 3 credits (Professor Bennington)

LAW 775A

This course will cover the laws impacting the family unit and defining the rights and duties of family members. Topics covered will include marriage, annulment, separation, divorce, support, custody, and equitable distribution. Course requirements may include writing assignments and group activities, to provide a sense of the practical side of the practice of family law. Minimum enrollment 8 students, maximum enrollment 32 students.

Adjunct Professor Bennington has a B.S.W. from Campbell University and a J.D. from Wake Forest University. She has been a Board-Certified Family Law Specialist since 2015. She is currently employed with Morgenstern & Associates, PLLC, in Greensboro and has a very active family law practice. Previously she worked at Black, Slaughter & Black, P.A. in Greensboro.

(S) Gender and the Law, 3 credits (Dean Scott)

LAW 868A

This course provides students with an understanding of the role that gender plays in the development of law. The course is organized around various theoretical frameworks found in case law or in the writing of feminists and womanist scholars, including various concepts of equality, difference theory, non-subordination, autonomy, essentialism, and critical race theory. Students also explore the critiques and limitations of these frameworks. Each framework will be explored in the context of concrete legal problems in various areas of law, e.g., employment, family law, sports, domestic violence, and pornography. The course provides students with the opportunity to continue improving their research and writing skills. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 16 students. This course may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement.

(S) Health Law, 2 credits (Professor Grant)

LAW 745A

This course covers major areas of Health Law, primarily with a bioethical emphasis. It includes discussion of the treatment relationship; the right and duty to die; organ transplantation, including the control, use, and allocation of body parts; reproductive rights and genetic technologies; and public health issues such as testing and public health, isolation, and quarantine. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 18 students. This course may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement.

International Business Transactions, 2 credits (Professor Akseli)

LAW 869A

This course is about international commercial law and practices. It will focus on international business transactions, such as the international sale of goods (CISG), the carriage of goods, international payments, and secured financing. It will also cover the methods of settling international commercial disputes, namely international litigation, mediation, and arbitration. The teaching and learning of practice of international business transactions will be based on the active participation of students, a problem-based method, and comparative examples. Minimum enrollment 8 students, maximum enrollment 16 students.

Professor Akseli is a UK Fulbright Scholar visiting the law school for the Winter and Spring trimesters. He is an Associate Professor at the University of Manchester (UK) School of Law, where he teaches and conducts research in a wide range of commercial law subjects, including Secured Transactions, Banking and Finance, Comparative Law, International Commercial Arbitration, and Alternative Dispute Resolution. In addition to Elon Law, he has visited at law schools throughout Europe and Asia.

($) Judicial Writing, 2 credits (Professor Reddy)

LAW 871A

This course gives students the opportunity to do the type of work they would do working for a judge or a court as a law clerk or staff attorney. Students work on a case over the course of the trimester, reviewing the record, conducting research, and reading parties' briefs before writing a bench memo and judicial opinion. The class will also discuss issues such as audience and writing style. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 12 students. This course may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement.

Law Office Technology I, 1 credit (Prof. Watson)

LAW 694A

This skills-based, asynchronous, online course prepares law students for law practice by focusing on learning and improving skills and knowledge of computer technology commonly used in law offices. Topics include computer operating systems, communication software, document preparation, collaboration, and document management systems. No pre- or co-requisites. This course may be taken at the same time as Law Office Technology II. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis. Minimum enrollment 2 students, maximum enrollment 12 students.

Law Office Technology II, 1 credit (Prof. Watson)

LAW 695A

This skills-based, asynchronous, online course prepares law students for law practice by focusing on learning and improving skills and knowledge of computer technology commonly used in law offices. Topics include spreadsheets and data management, creating PDFs, working with PDF Documents, case management, litigation support, and trial presentation software. This course may be taken at the same time as Law Office Technology I. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis. Minimum enrollment 2 students, maximum enrollment 12 students. Completion of Law Office Technology I & II qualifies for NSLT Legal Technology certification.

(*) ($) Mergers and Acquisitions, 3 credits (Adjunct Professor Baynes)

LAW 814A

This course explores the principal legal issues and practical realities of negotiated corporate acquisitions and mergers. Business deals are analyzed from inception to closing, with the focus on the lawyer's role in each phase of a transaction. Students complete tasks that junior transactional associates are commonly expected to undertake. Throughout the trimester, various simulations and fact patterns allow students to see and participate in many aspects of a basic business transaction. Students review and discuss due diligence materials and an example acquisition agreement, and participate in other aspects of a hypothetical transaction. Business Associations is a prerequisite to this course. Minimum enrollment 6 students, maximum enrollment 20 students.

This course may satisfy the Upper Level Writing Requirement.

Adjunct Professor Abbie Baynes is a corporate finance attorney with many years of transactional experience in a variety of business settings. She has worked in mergers and acquisitions for nearly 30 years. Attorney Baynes is a graduate of Duke University and holds JD and MBA degrees from George Washington University.

(*) Negotiations, 3 credits (Professor Wasson)

LAW 759A

All lawyers must negotiate. Whether you plan to be a commercial lawyer, a family lawyer, a criminal lawyer, a government lawyer, or any other type of lawyer, you will be negotiating with other attorneys, clients, and court personnel. This course, combining theory and practice, aims to improve both your understanding of negotiation and your effectiveness as a negotiator. Students engage in multiple negotiations. Drawing on negotiation scholarship from both legal and non-legal perspectives, the readings, lectures, and discussions provide strategies and techniques for negotiating more effectively and a framework for students to analyze their own negotiating ability. Minimum enrollment 10 students, maximum enrollment 20 students.

Wills Drafting Clinic, 3 credits (Professor Bloomfield)

LAW 773A

In this learning-by-doing course, students receive intensive instruction and then represent low income homeowners, referred to the clinic by Habitat for Humanity of Greater Greensboro and Legal Aid of North Carolina. Students interview clients, draft documents, explain the documents to clients, and oversee the self-proving signing protocol for those documents. Professional Responsibility, Wills and Trusts, and eligibility for the North Carolina State Bar Student Practice Certification are pre-requisites for this course. Minimum enrollment 4 students, maximum enrollment 12 students. After the course registration period has closed, dropping a clinical course requires the permission of the course professor.

Attorney Jeff Bloomfield is the principle attorney at Carolina Estate Planning in Winston-Salem, where he also serves on the city's Human Relations Commission. He received his undergraduate degree from Purdue University, his J.D. from Elon Law, and an LLM in taxation from Georgetown University. He is also a Returned Peace Corps Volunteer from the Republic of Moldova, where he worked as a small business adviser and helped establish a legal clinic.

(*) Wills and Trusts, 3 credits (Professor Newman-Ruffin)

LAW 770A

This course explores the gratuitous transfer of property at death, including intestate and estate succession. It also examines the nature, establishment, management, and termination of inter vivos and testamentary trusts. Minimum enrollment 8 students, maximum enrollment 32 students.

Professor Newman-Ruffin is currently completing a Westerfield Fellowship at Loyola University New Orleans. She has experience in commercial real development, with a specialization in multi-layered financing for mixed-income, multi-family housing. Professor Newman-Ruffin holds a joint degree in Law and Urban & Regional Planning from the University of Iowa, and she earned her Bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago.
